The Observer.

A year ago through the kindness of a member of the Keystone Park Association a piano was placed in the pavilion for the benefit of parties and individuals making use of the park. The Observer thought at the time the piano was placed there that some provision should be made for its protection against the weather and possible depredators, but it appears that during the late long winter the piano was left without anyother shelter than the roof of the open structure and with no guard whatever against mischievous persons. The inevitable consequences have occurred as any one may see for himself by a visit to the pavilion. The instrument was not a valuable one to begin with, but for the purposes for which it was intended it answered quite as well as a high priced new piano would have done, and the loss of it means the loss of all that any piano could stand for in the social enjoyments which center in the park. It is not lightly to be assumed that another instrument will be placed there every time one has been destroyed. The practical loss of the present instrument is therefore sufficietnly serious to call for a word or two of comment.

The exposure of the piano to every mischance of weather and to every chance of vandalism was either intentional or it was not. If it was not intentional, it was evidence of great negligence and indifference on the part of the park management. In this case those who had so little concern for the piano as to leave it all winter long utterly exposed have no reason to complain if certain other parties proceeded to demonstrate in a practical way that their concern for the piano was as slight as that shown by the park management.

If the exposure of the piano was intentional it could only have been for the purpose of testing the sense of honor and responsibility of every young man and boy, who might chance to visit the pavilion. Assuming that such was the purpose, the Observer is ready to concede that it was well meant, but he is nevertheless persuaded that it was a wrong and needless experiment to make. It was wrong, for the reason that no one has a moral right to throw in the way of others a special opportunity for wrong doing even though it be for the purpose of finding out how they will behave under the test. Life is too full of unavoidable temptations for any one to be justified in deliberately adding to the number. The spirit of the Lord's Prayer will make us careful not to lead others into temptation. The experiment was needless, for reason that the actual result could have been foretold with almost mathematical certainty. Given certain conditions, certain results are quite likely to follow. The experiment of dropping a lighted match into a keg of gun-powder has been tried often enough inadvertently to render any deliberate experiments of that kind superfluous. Moreover, if the piano experiment was to have any value, it was necessary that every one should receive the impression that the park management was anxious to preserve and protect the instrument and was asking the co-operation of all towards that end. On the face of the situation, however, it seemed that the management cared nothing what became of the piano, and consequently those who injured it did so under the impression thaa it was not of vaiue to anybody. The experiment, therefore, defeated its own purpose. If one wishes others to co-operate with him towards any worthy end, he must himself show by every outward and visible sign that he himself is heartily interested in that end. If the park management desires the full co-operation of the public in protecting the park and all the property thereof from injury, it must itself snow by every outward and visible sigh that it has that end in view, and not put out such an outward and visible sign as would lead many to suppose that it does not care what becomes of the park property.

The Observer has the fullest confidence in the good and earnest intentions of the park management. The interest which it represents is the interest of the entire community, and the entire community, old and young, should feel a responsibility for, and take a pride in, the improvemont and safe-keeping of the park. But the park management must take the lead in this, and no doubt means to do so. The Observer, however, respectfully ventures to say that leaving a piano in a situation that amounts to an invitation to young depredators to get in their work, is not the best way to enlist public spirit and co-operation in the interest of the park.

Senator Depew on Church Going.

Senator Depew agrees with Bishop Burgess that week-end house parties and Sunday gulf have been largely instrumental in reducing church attendance.

"Society persons," said the Senator to-day, "who are invited to week-end parties go for rest and recreation. If they are church-going people they think, undoubtedly, that they have done their duty by attending church in the city during the winter. In the mornings, sometimes, the elderly people go to church, but the young folks do not. They are no longer brought up to believe that it is their duty to do so. The fault lies largely with their parents. I was brougut up to go to church twice each Sunday to Sunday School and to prayer meeting Friday evening. I was made to go. The habit has stayed with me. No matter where I am, I make it a point to go to church on Sunday morning. I feel uncomfortable all the week if I do not."—The Public Ledger.

Epworth League Anniversary.

The sixteenth anniversary of the Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal Church was pleasantly and profitably observed last Sunday evening. A large audience being in attendance. The program was in charge of Prof. E. S. Ling, who in accepting the office of President for another year, made a felicitious address. Edith DeArmit read a scripture lesson. Pastor O. S Metzler installed the officers and offered the prayer of consecration. The following is the list of officers: President, E. S Ling; First Vice President, Mrs. S. L Stoddard; Second Vice President, Miss Nettie Moore; Third Vice President, Miss Edith Heilman; Fourth Vice President, Mrs. Ella McSwan; Secretary, Miss Susie Wheaton; Treasurer, Mr. Fred Heilman; Organist, Miss Ella Hacket.

Two new members were received. A soprano solo by Miss Lillian Heilman, select readings by Misses Marion Larrabee and Nettie Moore were features of interest. Mr. Ericsson presided at the organ. Decorations of red and white flowers, the League colors tastefully arranged about the chancel lent an air of simple, quiet beauty to the the scene.

Pawnee Bill's Circus.

For the first time the people of this city and vicinity will be given an opportunity to see a score of real Bedouins when Pawnee Bill's Historic Wild West and Great Far East comes here on Wednesday, May 31.

These tent dwellees of the Sahara desert are the only ones in this country, are not only interesting, but distinguished people; so strong in their love for their sand stormed and torrid zones, that until Pawnee Bill succeded in influencing those who are with him, the Bedouin could not be influenced to leave the desert to come to an unknown land.

They are among the strangest of the many strange people, and in the assemblage of the Congress of Nations, an elegant opportunity is given to study their manner of living their industries, religion habits and pastimes. Unlike the Arab, they are of powerful build and possess the quickness of the tiger. They are expert swordsmen and gun twirlers, and splendid horsemen, while their Arabian steeds are what could be termed equine beauties wit hout the least fear of saying what is not true. Natural born athletes and gymnasts, they give a performance that is marvelous; their tumbling, both ground and lofty is new, and their art gives an elegant opportunity to notice the vast difference between the graduate from the gynmnasium and the athlete as nature made him. Their performance is the very embodiment of grace, agility and muscle.

Labaugh—Russell.

Mr. Claude B. Labaugh, of Ridgway, and Miss Stella Russell, of Emporium, where united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Logan, North Broad street, Wednesday at 2 o'clock p. m., in the presence of a few friends, by Rev. O. S. Metzler of M. E. church. Miss Russell is well known here, while the groom is an industrious young man They will reside in Ridgway where Mr. Labaugh is profitably employed.

Low Rate Excursion to Portland, Oregon.

Account Lewis and Clark Exposition will be in effect via Wisconsin Central Railway. If you intend to go to Portland this year ask the ticket agent to make your ticket read via Wisconsin Central between Chicago and St Paul. Pullman sleepers, free reclining chair cars and a la Carte meals make the journey comfortable and pleasant. Further information cheerfully given by addressing W. H. Allen, T. A., 621 Park Building, Pittsburg, Pa. 13-7t.

Mr. Fisk's Purchase.

Mr. L. S. Fisk has purchased the old Methodist Church property at the Corner of Spruce street and Allegheny avenue and as soon as vacated by Mr. Hilliker, will fit it up for factory purposes. Mr. Fisk will remove his familly here as soon as he can secure a house. The line of business in which he will engage is not represented in Emporium and from encouragement given him he hopes to establish a lucrative trade and by so much add to the town's prosperity.

Have you read that very interesting magazine, The Smart Set?

DEATH'S DOINGS.

VICKERY.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Vickery, whose death occurred at the Buffalo General hospital, Thursday, May 18th, took place from the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaBell on the Jackson farm, on the Portage road last Saturday afternoon, the Rev. O. S. Metzler, conducting the services. Since her widowhood, which occurred more than twenty years ago, she has made her home with the family of her daughter, Mrs. LaBell and by them was loved and cared for Of late, however, she had been living in Rochester, and the presumption is, was on her way to Emporium when stricken in the Black Rock station of the Grand Trunk railroad, Buffalo, and being unattended by any friends and in a greatly enfeebled condition of health, she was conveyed to the hospital, where she survived but a short time. The circumstances of loneliness surrounding her death strongly appeals to the hearts of all-the blow falling with unusual heavi, ness upon her kinsfolk, who certainly have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

Mrs. Vickery's age was 76 years She had always been a hard worker, the task of rearing her family, falling largely to her lot. Her neighbors speak kindly of her many excellent traits of character. Mrs. Vickery was twice married, Emmery being her other name by marriage.

SWAN.

Jesse Swan, aged 76 years died at the home of his daughter Mrs. Almeda Montgomery in Rich Valley, Sunday evening May 21st, from heart failure superinduced by the infirmities of old age. Deceased was a highly respected citizen, a man of good habits, and in the days of his prime a sturdy toiler. He served as a soldier in the civil war, and was noted for his bravery on the field of battle. He is survived by one daughter Mrs. Montgomery, his wife having died 30 years ago. Funeral services were conducted in the First Methodist Church of town by Revs. Dow and Metzler Tuesday last, the burial taking place in the Newton Cemetery, Members of the G. A. R., acted as bearers.

Mrs. John Wygant of Sizerville was his sister-in-law.

Mr. Swan was a native of North Carolina, and for a number of years resided in Iowa and came to this section about 30 years ago.

CLINE.

Ethel the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cline died at their home on Babcock street, Buffalo, last Sunday morning of diphtheria, burial being made on Monday. The child had been sick only a few hours and was a grand-child of Mr. John Cline, of Portage street, this place.

Charley, the three year old son is just recovering from an attack of this dread disease, and the little boy of Mrs. Lena Rendt, who is visiting at their home is also sick with diptheria.

Enforce the Law.

Editor Press:—

Allow me a little space in your columns for a few remarks. We are well named the lawless Valley people, for we do not believe there is another community in the state that would allow parties to take their guns and fishing rods to hunt and fish along the streams during hours of worship on the Sabbath day. But we are sorry to say that this is practiced by some of our Valley friends. We have a law that covers this Sabbath breaking and we will enforce it the next time there is lawless work in our Valley. Be careful where you fish, as all will be dealt with alike in this matter.

Knights Templar Conclave.

The Knights Templar Conclave at Williamsport, which commeneed last Tuesday morning, closed yesterday afternoon. The weather was grand and the 3,090 Plumed Knights and twenty six bands, received the hearty applause of the many thousand visitors, from all sections of the state. Knapp Commanders, No 40, of Ridgway, which included the Cameron county members, arrived in a special train Monday evening and opened headquarters at Park Hotel. They gave a reception Tuesday evening and served refreshments to all caliers.

The conclave was voted the most enjoyable of any ever held in this state, except Philadelphia.

The following fromCameron county, most gentlemen being members of Knapp Commandery, were visitors during the conclave:

E. C. Davison, wife and daughter, A. C. Blum and wife, E. W.Gaskill and daughter, Mrs. L. W. Hopple, G. S. Allen, H. H. Mullin and wife, F. P. Strayer and wife, O. B. Barnes and wife, U. A. Palmer, Alfred Hockley, J. W. Kriner, John Gleason and wife, J. E. Smith, wife and son, Judge Huntley and wife, the Misses Huntley, I. K. Hockley and wife, Jos. Kaye and wife, Walter Youthers, J. M. Shaffer, Jr., and wife and Miss Brooks. The next conclave will be held at Pittsburg.

In addition to the above we also noticed the following from Cameron county: Henry Auchu and wife, Mrs. Frank Pearsall and childred, Mrs. Cornelius, John Orr, Mrs. C. E. Crandell and daughter Pauline, the Misses Blumle and H. L Reedy.

All appeared to enjoy the beautiful illuminations and grand parade, automobile and carriage rides to say nothing of the various receptions. Williamsport have reason to be proud of the successful manner in which they entertained the thousands.

Memorial for Circus Dead

The John Robinson circus train on its way from Clearfield last week, stopped at mid-night near the place where the Main's circus was wrecked twelve years ago. A parade of 1,000 circus people, headed by six brass bands, marched to the scene of the disaster, where, after Rev. Shsak had offered prayer and made an addresses, two carloads of flowers, purchased jointly by the circus and the Pennsylvania railroad, were banked on the mountainside.

Forty Indians belonging to it marched in single file to the top of Muncy mountain, and there, on the jagged rocks, led by Prince Chinchilla, executed the death dance in memory of Chief Lone Bear, the prince's father, who died yesterday. The Indians danced with bare feet until the rocks were covered with blood, and the spot was then covered with green leaves.

Visited Renovo.

Quite a large delegation of Emporium Knights of Columbus visited Renovo on Sunday, where the third Degree was conferred upon sixty candidates. About three hundred members from different parts of the state were present.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

Renovo had a circus on Tuesday. The News says this is the first visit of a circus to Renovo in several years. It has no doubt just been discovered they are still on the map.

On Sunday afternoon about three o'clock the alarm of fire was sounded and the fire located near the freight depot, where a spark from a passing locomotive set fire to the roof of one of the buildings at Hackett's saw mill.

The members of W. R. C., will meet at the Corps room on Memorial Day at 9 o'clock and go to the Cemetery with the Post, to take part in the decoration of graves. After which they will return to the Corps room, where they will serve lunch to the Post, Corps and soldiers not members of Post. By order of President.

MATILDA DODGE, Sec'y:

Senator Beveridge on Real Happiness.

Senator Albert J. Beveridge in the last number of The Saturday Evening Post has the following to say about the value of religion in the life of the new home:

"What I am now insisting upon is a constant and careful nourishment of the mind and soul within you, so that the new home may each day be more and more the dwelling place of beauty and the abode of real happiness. You cannot think of the old home without thinking of your mother, and you can not think of your mother without thinking of the Bible. A young man and a young woman who are making a new home make an irreparable mistake if they leave out the religious influence.

"Both ought to belong to church and to the same church. This is a matter of prudence as well as of righteousness. Get it into your consciousness that you must be in harmony with the people of whom you are two. Your new home must be in accord with the millions of other homes which make up this nation. And the American people at bottom are a religious people. Also you will find that nothing will please your wife so much as to resolve upon regular church attendance and then to reduce that resolve to a habit. It is good for you, too; you feel as if you had taken a moral bath after you get home from church every Sunday."

Important Railroad Changes.

The Pennsy R. R., has issued its new train schedule, to take effect Sunday, May 28th, at noon The most important changes are as follows: Train No. 38 leaves Erie daily at 6:50 a. m., arriving at Emporium at 12:10 noon, making connection with Buffalo Flyer east Train No. 6, formerly afternoon train 3:15 leaves Emporium for eastern points at 3:20. Train No. 35, after arrival of Buffalo Flyer from Philadelphia and Washington, starts from Emporium at 4:20 p. m.. arriving at Erie at 9:25 p. m. All other trains are about as usual, except Niagara Express, which formerly arrived at Emporium at 6:23 p. m., is cut out west of Emporium.

Low-Rate Tour to Denver.

On account of the Epworth League International Convention, to be held in Denver, Col., July 5 to 9, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has arranged a tour to Denver under its Personally conducted System. "The Three Most Beautiful Roses"
By Paul de Longpre.

At the urgent solicitation of the Woman's Home Companion, Mr. Paul de Longpre, who is the greatest painter of flowers in the world, consented to make a painting of what is considered "The Three Most Beautiful Roses," and the painting is without doubt one of the masterpieces of this great artist. This magnificent picture is reproduced in all its original grandeur on the cover of the Woman's Home Companion for June. Although this cover is an accurate reproduction of a painting worth hundreds of dollars, yet the June number, which has this exquisite cover, may be obtained at any first-class news-stand or direct from the publishers for the trival sum of only ten cents.

Mr. Paul de Longpre is justly styled the "King of Flower Painters." He not only paints roses, but every flower that grows, and is the highest authority on flowers His paintings are feund in the most select homes. Some have sold for as much as seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500,000).

Artists, art critics and competent judges all agree that the covers of the Woman's Home Companion far excel those of any other magazines.

The Woman's Home companion is a magazine which in beauuty and excellence, art stories, illustrations and fashions, etc., excels all other home and family magazines The Woman's Home Companion is published by The Crowell Publishing Company, New York City, also Chicago, Ill., at one dollar a year, and is the favorite magazine in nearly half a million homes, where it is read each and every issue by three million people.

RIGHT TIME TO CURE CATARRH.

L. Taggart Guarantees Hyomei Will Cure if Used Now.

The early summer when the weather becomes warm and settled, is the best time of the whole year to treat catarrhal troubles with the expectation of complete and lasting relief.

Everyone who has catarrh of the head and throat should know how foolish it is to try and cure it by drugging the stomach.

Until recently your physician would have said that the only way to cure catarrh would be by a change of climate but now with Hyomei you can carry a health giving climate in your purse or vest pocket, and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day soon cure yourself.

Everyone who has catarrh, or even a tendency to catarrh, should use Hyomei now, for the benefit will be gained twice as quickly and the disease thoroughly eradicated from the system.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but one dollar, and includes a vest pocket inhaler, a medicine dropper, and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if more Hyomei is needed, extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents.

In Emporium there are scores of well known people who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. If it does not cure you. L. Taggart will return your money. This is the strongest evidence he can offer as to his faith in the remedy.

City Government.

Municipal government is admittedly the weak point in the American system, and in some cases the breakdown has been complete, temporarily, at least. For this reason, says the Lewiston (Me.) Journal, considerable interest attaches to the new experiment Houston, Tex., is making. Following the successful example of Galveston after its great storm, a bill has just been signed by the governor of Texas which legislates out of existence the officials of Houston elected at the last election, and gives all municipal power to a commission of five, who will proceed to transact the business of the city as though it were a private corporation. The new measure seems to have the general support of the taxpayers and business men of the city. It will work well only if the commission are interested experts, instead of trading grafters. It has been well said that the more men think alike in problems admitting demonstration the more fit are they for self-government and for discrimination in matters of government and in minor matters and all matters of conjecture. But this result is not accomplished in men of narrow and prejudiced minds. Popular education is far more essential in a free state than in a monarchy. Centralized authority makes it essential that the local government be limited, but not interfered with, save as the local government crosses the line. Sacifice for civic improvement makes the citizen efficient. The local legislature or the city government, through publicity and attention to the higher needs of the city, is capable of accomplishing great good in the education of public sentiment. But this great good demands that the personnel of city governments should be high alike in culture of head and heart.

Nation of Sportsmen.

We are now in the full swing of athletics and outdoor sports and the season has started with a rush, remarks the Boston Transcript. Baseball has its votaries in as great numbers as ever. The chilling bleachers are filled with those who like to see others play and the baseball champions of the future are being developed in the vacant lots. Golf, in spite of all that has been said about the decline of the game, is being played by innumerable devotees of the royal and ancient game. Some of the small clubs have gone to the wall, the players finding that it is to their advantage to go farther from home and find better places to play. The large clubs, however, continue to show prosperity. The horses are being trained for races, fishermen are going to the streams, hunters to the woods, and in all lines of sport there is a genuine revival. We are a nation of sportsmen.

Fresh country air is wholesome and a sovereign remedy for many of the ills that afflict the weary city dweller. The tendency in this country, observes the Nashville (Tenn.) Banner, has been too much to crowd into the great cities, and many of the poor of the slums and overtaxed tenements would be greatly benefited if they could be removed to the farms. The magazines that encourage the love of rural life are doing a great work, and not the least feature of their mission is the cultivation of the aesthetic quality. They promote a love for the beautiful in nature that will result in the preservation of much of the natural loveliness of the country that has been too ruthlessly dealt with by the unappreciative utilitarian in the past.

Gov. Herrick of Ohio a few days ago received from "Miss L. Neal," of Bradford, a request for a permit to don men's wearing apparel. The woman says she works on a farm and that skirts interfere with her usefulness. She wants to know if the governor cannot give her permission to get into trousers. At present such a request cannot be granted, but the letter was referred to the attorney general with the suggestion that perhaps he would recommend an amendment to the law to suit such a case

THE PRESIDENT IS SQUARE

Wants to See the Rate-Making Law "Administered with Sanity and Conservatism."

That promised campaign by the president in favor of railway rate regulation has been started. The speech he made in Denver was the opening gun in it. He announced that he favored extending the "powers of the interstate commerce commission, and of giving it particularly the power to fix rates, and to have the rates that they fix go into effect practically at once." Then, too, he declares that he favors the entension of the commission's authority over the private car evil, which, as regards certain industries, the president thinks, "offers an even greater menace than is offered by reason of the present system of fixing rates." All this is in harmony with what he urged in his message to congress last winter, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

It will be well to bear in mind, however, that the rate-fixing power which the president wants to have conferred on the interstate commerce commission has a limit. Attorney General Moody, the other day, when he appeared before the senate's committee on interstate commerce, outlined the powers of congress on this big issue, as he understood them. "There is a governmental power to fix the maximum future charges of carriers by railroads vested in the legislatures of the states with regard to transportation exclusively within the states, and vested in congress with regard to all other transportation." He added that "Although legislative power, properly speaking, can not be delegated, the law-making body, having enacted into law the standard of charges which shall control, may instrust to an administrative body not exercising in the true sense judicial power the duty to fix rates in conformity with that standard." This "administrative body" means the interstate commerce commission. It is only the maximum charges that the president has in mind when he urges the conferring of this power on the interstate commerce commission.

But the president makes it plain that he wants to see this rate-making law "administered with sanity and conservatism." He wants a square deal given to the railways, as well as to their patrons and the general public. We must be, he says, "as zealous to do justice to the railroads as to exact justice from them." The same law must govern the capitalist and the laborer. No man is to be discriminated against because he has property. Nor is the property holder to be allowed to infringe on the rights of the man without property. All men must be equal before the law. He says that, should such a law be passed, he would neither appoint nor retain on the commission any man who would fail to do justice to the railroad, any more than he would do this for the man who would fail to exact justice from the railroad. This is the spirit in which the country wants the law to be administered. The railways are an immense interest. Their assets of $16,000,000,000 represent about a seventh of the aggregate wealth of the country. The marvelous increase in the United States' wealth in the past two or three decades has been due in a very large degree to the extenson of the railway system. A blow dealt to the railways would react on every person in the country. The same measure of justice which the railways receive under the present statutes they will have under the enactment which the president urges, and which, in one shape or another, is sure to be passed ultimately by congress.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

☞Bryan seems to be the hotbox and Parker the refrigerator of the democratic party.—Chicago Chronicle.

☞Mr. Bryan's latest political theories, as Tom Watson reminds him, are not democratic, but populistic. The tendency of Mr. Bryan has always been to go to the populists for a platform, wherever he went for the rest of his party stock in trade.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

☞It is constantly held out that the proposed enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission would mean that the rates would be fixed by the government. But there is no intention on the part of the president to turn the complex rate-making problem over to the interstate commission. That body is merely to have the power to adjust unfair rates under complaint.—Kansas City Star.

☞What is true of the west in regard to tariff revision is true of the whole country. The artificially created furore has very largely subsided, and outside of the ranks of such free-trade auxiliaries as Cummins of Iowa and Foss of Massachusetts there is very little sentiment among republicans favorable to any consideration of the tariff at the extra session of congress to be called in October. The country is rapidly settling down to the sober and sensible conclusion that the tariff will do very well as it is for a considerable time to come.—American Economist.

THE LEADERSHIP OF BRYAN

Heading Toward Bimetallism, Tariff for Revenue Only and Kindred Issues.

Musing on 1908, the Richmond Times-Dispatch says:

"Democrats will have several years to consider before they will be called upon to act, and it should be a season of careful and prayerful reflection. They should certainly not commit themselves thus far in advance to Mr. Bryan. They should wait and see whither he proposes to lead them."

Mr. Bryan's direction is easily ascertainable right now, says the Washington Star. He is leading toward bimetalism, a tariff for revenue only, cutting loose from the Philippines as soon as possible and government ownership of railroad and telegraph lines. He is prepared to urge any one of those issues as paramount, or play all of them together, as the occasion may encourage. The last of the four is at present his hobby, but, if necessary, he can shift to another and ride that. There is no need to wait three years to find out whither Mr. Bryan is leading.

A very interesting suggestion in political circles is that Mr. Bryan may spend some time in Washington next fall and winter advising with his friends in congress about legislation. He came here, it will be remembered, at the time the peace treaty with Spain was pending in the senate, and used his influence toward ratification. His presence was resented by some of the older democratic leaders, but he paid no attention to that. As he had 1900 in view, and was counting on leading his party again, he remained and saw the treaty through. If his wishes had prevailed every democratic vote in the senate would have been recorded in favor of the treaty.

Mr. Bryan now has his eyes on 1908, and, expecting another nomination, is ambitious to help shape things for that year. He approves of the president's attitude toward the railroads, and wants the democrats in congress to support the president. He thinks it will be good politics for them to do so, and particularly as, in his opinion, the president's support from a certain section of his own party is going to be lukewarm. It is thought quite likely, therefore, that in order to impress his views the more forcibly upon his friends in congress Mr. Bryan may come here and give them a "steer" from time to time.

There cannot be any waiting by the democrats. They must go on record promptly. The tariff question and the railroad rate question are coming up in congress, and while the initiative and the responsibility are with the republicans, the democrats will be obliged to show their hands. As Mr. Bryan and the democratic leader in the senate, Mr. Gorman, are not together on the tariff question, and Mr. Bryan and the democratic leader in the house, Mr. Williams, not together on the railroad question, the session, if Mr. Bryan comes to town, may be a lively one for the democrats.

RECIPROCITY NOT IN FAVOR

The Feeling in Canada Is That Better Protection for Manufactures Is Needed.

An eastern paper has made a canvass of the Canadian press in regard to trade reciprocity with the United States, the result being that only a few of them were found to favor that policy, the great majority being opposed to lowering the present Canadian duties on American manufactures, no matter what inducements are offered by this country. There can be no doubt that this reflects public sentiment in the Dominion, says the Omaha Bee. The feeling has been steadily growing there for several years that what the manufacturing industries need is better protection, and that any concessions to the manufacturers of the United States must inevitably work to the disadvantage of the Canadian industries. A reciprocity affecting only natural products would doubtless be acceptable to the Canadians, but they realize that they cannot get this, which would hit the American farmer, without making tariff concessions to our manufacturers. This they will not do.

The New England manufacturing interests that have been clamoring for reciprocity ought to learn something from the result of the canvass of the Canadian press. It would seem that it should convince them of the uselessness of continuing an agitation the outlook for which is so manifestly hopeless. It must be presumed that even they would not be willing to sacrifice the interests of American farmers if there was no advantage to be gained for themselves. Reciprocity with Canada can hardly be regarded as a live question, even by so aggressive a champion of the policy as the democrate governor of Massachusetts.

☞Judge Parker has told the democracy what he thinks it ought to do. The democracy has, however, shown an unmistakable reluctance about doing what Judge Parker would be glad to have it do.—Chicago Record-Herald.

☞Postmaster-General Cortelyou has properly decided that "pernicious activity" in politics does not harmonize with strict attention on the part of postal employes to the details of a very absorbing and exacting business. —N. Y. Tribune.

☞Both the south and Mexico now seem to be firmly established on an anti-Bryan basis.—Chicago Tribune.

☞Governor Douglas of Massachusetts was asked if the duty on hides was removed if he would sell his shoes any cheaper. He said the price of labor would prohibit him from doing it. The workinghan who protests against protective tariff it would be a flattery to call a chump.—Missoulian.

THE STRIKE IS TOTTERING

Belief that the Labor War in Chicago Will Soon be Ended Is Expressed by Employers and Strikers.

GOMPERS ARRIVES IN THE CITY

His Influence Will be Thrown in Favor of Peace—Ringleaders of Strikers at Public Schools Are to be Arrested, Also the Parents of Many Pupils.

Chicago, May 17.—Although no facts have as yet transpired to fully warrant the prediction, it is asserted both by members of the Employers' association and by the conservative element in the ranks of the teamsters that the present strike will be called off, probably within 48 hours and certainly by the end of the week.

Chief among the causes which led to the prediction of a settlement are the firm stands taken yesterday by Mayor Dunne when in conference with President Shea and officials of the local Teamsters' union, he assured them that any further spread of the strike would certainly make it necessary for him to call for troops, and the arrival of President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, who reached the city last evening.

Although not possessed of executive power in the settlement of the strike, President Gompers declared that he had every hope that its end was not far distant.

Immediately after leaving his train President Gompers went into conference with President Shea and the officers of the local Teamsters' union.

The Employers' association and the express companies increased their scope of delivery still further yesterday. Something over 2,000 wagons were in use and business for the most part was transacted without hindrance of any kind. There were a few cases of rioting which were dispersed by policemen who used their clubs in vigorous fashion.

Warrants were sworn out before Judge Mack by Superintendent of Compulsory Education Bodine for the ringleaders of the "strikes" at the public schools and also for the parents of many of the pupils whose children have not returned to school. The school officials decided to put down the school "strikes" if it should be necessary to take several hundred pupils and their parents into the courts.

Chicago, May 18.—It is highly probable that the next 24 hours will see the end of the teamsters' strike. Although none of the labor leaders will so acknowledge, it is generally understood that the program for calling off the strike has already been arranged.

The authorities have taken hold of the strike fever in the public schools with a firm hand and yesterday Judge Mack, of the juvenile court, sentenced one boy to the John Worthy school, which is a branch of the house of correction, and sent two to the parental school, while a fourth was released on probation.

Chicago, May 19.—Peace in the teamsters' strike is still hanging in the balance and, although it is generally expected that a settlement will soon be reached, it seems further away than it did 24 hours ago.

It was asserted by the Team Owners' association that the teamsters had consented to arbitrate with them the question of whether union teamsters should make deliveries to boycotted houses. President Shea, of the Teamsters' union, declared yesterday that he had never agreed to any such proposal. This misunderstanding caused a halt in the impending settlement.

For the first time in several days riots broke out and there were numerous fights between non-union men and union teamsters. A disturbance at Twenty-second street and Indiana avenue blocked all traffic and delayed street cars for half an hour. The police were compelled to use their clubs vigorously to disperse the crowd and they made several arrests.

Chicago, May 20.—All the indications point to the end of the teamsters' strike within the next 12 hours, it being predicted by both employers and labor leaders that the trouble will be over within that time. President Shea of the Teamsters' union, last night met Attorney Mayer, who has full authority to settle the strike for the Employers' association, at the Auditorium annex.

Shea and Mayer refused to state what matters were under consideration, but from other sources it was learned that Shea was making an effort to secure the best terms possible for his men before consenting to recommend that the strike be called off. After the meeting Shea reported directly to the teamsters' joint council, which met at union headquarters and continued its deliberations until a late hour.

The sole power of calling off the strike rests with this body, and it was freely predicted on all sides last night that it would be at some time before noon to-day that the end would come.

Big Movement of Freight Cars.

Saybrook, Conn., May 15.—A total of about 1,900 freight cars on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad moved across the Connecticut river draw bridge yesterday, and of this number 1,100 went west and the rest east. On account to the accident to the bridge last week a great amount of freight was held up.

THE HABITUAL EXPRESSION.

Questions Which Many Persons in Exalted Business Positions Should Ask Themselves.

What kind of an expression do you wear habitually? asks Orison Swett Marden, in Success Magazine. Is it sour, morose, repellent? Is it a mean, stingy, contemptible, uncharitable, intolerant expression? Do you wear the expression of a bulldog, a grasping, greedy, hungry expression, which indicates an avaricious nature? Do you go about among employes with a thundercloud expression, with a melancholy, despondent, hopeless look on your face, or do you wear the sunshine expression which radiates good cheer and hope, which indicates a feeling of good will and of helpfulness? Do people smile and look happier when you approach them, or do they shrink from you, and feel a chilly goose-flesh sensation come over them as they see you approach?

It makes all the difference in the world to you and to those whom you influence what kind of an expression you wear.

Were Good for Both.

Paulding, Miss., May 15th.—(Special) —In this neighborhood men and women alike are telling of the great benefit they have received from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills and it frequently happens they are the means of curing members of both sexes in the same family. Take the case of Mr. and Mrs. F. Erby. The latter voices the sentiment of both when she says:

"My lips cannot express too much praise for Dodd's Kidney Pills. I suffered with Backache and Female weakness for four or five years and I feel that I have been wonderfully helped by Dodd's Kidney Pills. My husband too was a sufferer for five years from a weak bladder and they also cured him."

Dodd's Kidney Pills make healthy kidneys. Healthy kidneys mean pure blood and good health all over the body. No woman with healthy kidneys ever had female weakness.

PAINFUL SCIATICA

EVERY SUFFERER WANTS THE VERY QUICKEST CURE.

Mr. Donovan Thinks the Remedy Used by Him with Such Remarkable Success the Best—Cured by Five Boxes.

"Men who have to do difficult and dangerous work on electric lines at any hour of day or night, can't afford to have anything the matter with their health," said Mr. Donovan. You can imagine, therefore, how much I was alarmed one winter's day in 1902, when I was seized by a pain just behind my right hip that made it difficult for me to walk home. It was so bad by the time I reached the house that I was obliged to go straight to bed."

"Did that relieve you?"

"No, the pain grew more severe and kept extending downward along my leg. I sent for a physician, and he soon decided that I had sciatica. In a few days the whole nerve was affected, and the least movement brought on terrible agony."

"Did your condition improve under the doctor's treatment?"

"Quite the contrary. At the end of two months I wasn't a bit better, and at times I feared that I would never be able to leave my bed."

"How did you get out again?"

"When I was lying in bed, unable to move and wasting away in flesh, a friend visited me and told me about the wonderful cures brought about by a great blood and nerve remedy, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He strongly urged me to try them, and I luckily had sense enough to take his advice."

"Did you mend quickly?"

"Yes, that was the astonishing thing. I noticed a slight improvement before I had quite finished the first box of the pills, I could get out of bed while I was on the third box, and I was entirely cured by the time I had taken five boxes."

Mr. Joseph A. Donovan is living at Plaistow, New Hampshire, and is line inspector for the Haverhill, Newton and Plaistow Electric Street Railway. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the remedy to use when the blood is thin, as in anæmia; or impure, as in rheumatism; or when the nerves are weak, as in neuralgia; or lifeless, as in partial paralysis; or when the body as a whole is ill-nourished, as in general debility. They are sold by all druggists.

RIGHT LIVING MEANS HEALTH, ENERGY AND A CLEAR BRAIN.

EGG-O-SEE IS A FOOD ESPECIALLY ADAPTED TO PEOPLE LIVING IN THE SMALLER TOWNS AND COUNTRY DISTRICTS, BECAUSE OF THE ABUNDANCE OF RICH CREAM AT HAND.

The modern tendency is to take less medicine and pay more attention to the selection of proper food. All physicians and food experts agree that the whole wheat grain properly cooked is the most healthful and nourishing form of food known. Common flour loses some of the essential elements of right food. Other cereals heat blood and are indigestible.

EGG-O-SEE is the ideal whole wheat food. It is scientifically steam cooked in air-tight sanitary ovens, and its preparation returns all the elements of wheat necessary for health and strength.

EGG-O-SEE is not only healthful, but it is the daintiest and best flavored of all flaked wheat foods. It will please the discriminating taste.

There is only one way to know the real merits of EGG-O-SEE, and that is to eat it.

DENOUNCED THEM AS ROBBERS

Philadelphia's City Councilmen Accused of Robbery by Angry and Excited Citizens.

A SCENE OF WILD DISORDER

It Followed the Vote of the Councilmen to Lease the City's Gas Works for 75 Years for a Total Sum of $25,000,000—Mayor Weaver May Veto the Scheme.

Philadelphia, May 19.—Amid scenes of disorder unprecedented in the annals of Philadelphia's legislative body, city councils last night voted to lease the city's gas works to the United Gas Improvement Co. for a term of 75 years, for the total sum of $25,000,000, the money to be paid in various amounts before the end of 1907. Councils chambers and committee rooms were crowded with excited citizens protesting against the lease to the Gas Improvement Co. from 1 p. m., when the proceedings opened in the finance committee room, until after 8 p. m., when select council passed the bill and sent it to the mayor.

The climax was reached when the vote in common council was announced after three hours of debate. The moment President George McCurdy, of the common council, announced the vote a great uproar was started in the gallery, which was crowded to the doors. From all over the gallery came hisses and cries of "thieves." The outburst was somewhat startling to the presiding officer, who made a vain effort to quell it. Finally he sent for a squad of police to clear the gallery, which started the disorder anew. The crowd continued to hiss and call the councilmen thieves and other names until the police arrived and started to clear the gallery. As the president moved out they sang uncomplimentary songs. In clearing the gallery there were several clashes between the police and some of the spectators, but no one was hurt.

All through the session of common council there was disorder. In select council there were so many policemen on duty that no one dared to interrupt the proceedings. There was neither a cheer nor a hiss when the bill passed that body.

The agitation against the passage of the bill resulted in common council amending the measure so as to provide for a slight reduction in the price of gas. The amendment as adopted provides that the price of gas from the date of the lease until January 1, 1911, shall be $1 a thousand cubic feet, the same as the present price; from 1911 to 1921, 95 cents; from 1921 to 1936, 90 cents; from 1936 to 1956, 85 cents, and thereafter until the expiration of the lease in 1980, 80 cents.

CONFESSIONS WERE BOGUS

A Negro Caused Trouble by Writing a Letter to a Chief of Police—His Arrest by Postal Officials Followed.

Chester, W. Va., May 19.—In a letter to the police authorities of this city, a man signing himself "A. Johnson" and claiming to be a partner of Henry Williams, who was recently executed in Roanoke, Va., has confessed to five murders and numerous robberies. His reasons for writing are that other men have suffered for his crimes and his conscience troubles him. He says he has been converted.

Cincinnati, May 19.—Albert Johnson, colored, was arrested yesterday in Newport, Ky., for sending threatening letters through the mails. The officers express the belief that he is the same man who wrote to the Chester, W. Va., chief of police, confessing various crimes for which other men had been or were about to be punished. A postal card to James Mooar, son of Capt. Luke Mooar, threatening him with death was turned over to the postal authorities and led to Johnson's arrest. Johnson acknowledged writing the postal and was asked:

"Did you write that letter to the Chester, W. Va., chief of police?"

"Yes, sir, I did, and every word in that letter is true," he responded.

Later Johnson retracted his statement that he had killed five persons.

TERRIBLY FATAL ACCIDENT.

El Reno, Okla., May 19.—Lieut. Granville Chapman, stationed at Fort Reno, was shot in the back and instantly killed Thursday while assisting in company maneuvers.

KILLED IN THE STREET.

Explosion of a Bomb at Warsaw Results in the Death of Three People and Injury to 23.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, May 20.—A workman who was trying to avoid the observation of two detectives on Miodowa street Friday stumbled on the curb of the sidewalk and a bomb which he was carrying in his pocket exploded, killing the workman, both the detectives and injuring many persons who were passing by. It is believed the bomb was intended for Gov. Gen. Maximovitch, who was expected to pass the spot on his way to the cathedral to attend the services in honor of the czar's birthday.

The number injured by the explosion is 23, including three women, one student and two school boys. One of the latter is detained at the police station, having been noticed warning people against going into Miodowa street. Many reports are in circulation of strangers having stopped poorly dressed persons going in that direction. Shopkeepers assert that the street was unusually empty at the time of the explosion.

This outrage is the sixth of similar character in Warsaw since the January disturbances. The editors of Polish papers have decided to publish, if the censor will permit it, strong articles denouncing such attacks.

Gov. Gen. Maximovitch sent his adjutant to the hospital with a message of sympathy for the wounded and offered to take care of the injured.

The man who was carrying the bomb has been identified as a Polish shoemaker named Dobrowolski, a member of the violent section of the socialists. Later reports state that the detectives were in the act of arresting Dobrowolski when the bomb exploded and all three were killed. A revolver and a bundle of papers were found in Dobrowloski's pocket.

Many arrests have been made since the explosion and the police are busy making domiciliary searches.

It is stated that Gov. Gen. Maximovitch recently received an anonymous letter threatening that as he had allowed men, women and children to be shot down on May day, so he would be killed with his wife and children.

DEATH PENALTY FOR HOCH

A Notorious Bigamist Is Convicted of Wife Murder by a Jury at Chicago.

Chicago, May 20.—Johann Hoch, who, by his own confession, is a polygamist and who is charged by the police with having married at least 40 women in the last 15 years, was yesterday found guilty by a jury of murdering the next to his last wife, Marie Welcker Hoch, and the death sentence was recommended by the jury in Judge Kersten's court.

Hoch had been married to Mrs. Welcker only a short time when she took sick suddenly and died. He then formed an alliance with the sister of the dead woman and, securing the sister's money, fled from Chicago. This Mrs. Hoch told the police that Hoch had poisoned her sister and a search for Hoch was begun. He was found two weeks later in New York and brought back to Chicago and confronted by several alleged wives. During the trial expert testimony was offered by the state that Hoch poisoned the woman by administering arsenic.

Yesterday's verdict was reached in less than half an hour. Three ballots were taken. The first ballot was unanimous as to Hoch's guilt and then a ballot followed as to the punishment to be inflicted. This ballot showed ten in favor of the death penalty and two for life imprisonment. A third ballot resulted in the 12 jurymen voting for the death penalty.

"Well, I guess its all off with John," groaned Hoch as the verdict was read in court. He was greatly affected. He had sat in a stooping position, but when the word "death" was read he turned pale, stared hopelessly at the jurors and then sank limp in his chair.

Hoch's attorneys will ask for a new trial, although the condemned man declared he was ready to die and would be better satisfied if they did not make an effort to save him.

BUSINESS BULLETIN.

Unseasonable Weather Is the Chief Cause of Complaint.

New York, May 20.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Unseasonable weather is the chief cause of complaint, both as to distribution of merchandise and agricultural development. At many leading cities retail trade in spring and summer wearing apparel is falling behind expectations and there is less than the customary recorded business in wholesale and jobbing departments.

Although no actual reduction in the crops is yet assured, sufficient uncertainty has appeared to render dealers in the farming districts somewhat cautious regarding the accumulation of supplies beyond current requirements. Otherwise the trade situation is satisfactory. Manufacturing activity is fully maintained, the percentage of idle machinery being smaller than at any recent date, and the textile industries make notable progress under the stimulus of advancing raw materials.

Failures this week numbered 234 in the United States, against 236 last year, and 11 in Canada, compared with 12 a year ago.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, May 20th, 1905.

Editor Press:—

"The protected hogs must take their hind feet out of the trough." "I demand the most favored nation treatment for ourselves in the construction of the Panama Canal." "For American manufacturers to sell to foreigners, at a profit, at from one-third to one-half lower than they sell the same goods at home is not a square deal to the folks at home." With these characteristic and forceful, homely phrases President Roosevelt has launched a new issue, at least a new one for the Republican party, and there are strong indications that he will gain the support of the American people and put some hide bound ultra protectionists to confusion.

In his messages to Congress, last December, the President wrote, "I will have something to say on the tariff question latter on," but prominent members of his party who were permitted to read a proof of the message before it was made public pursuaded him to strike out the sentence. He yielded to their request, but then endeavored to secure some sort of an agreement from the leaders that provision would be made for a readjustment of the Dingley schedules later on. They had urged that agitation of the subject in advance would unsettle business, so he called them to the White House and asked what they thought of calling Congress in extra session this spring for the purpose of readjusting the tariff schedules. The stand patters claimed that it would require time for investigation and that the session had better be called in the Fall. To this the President agreed and October was fixed as the date of the special session. The President supposed, of course, that Congress would make provision for the existing schedules during the summer, and the Senate did, but the stand patters who control the House failed to do so and adjourned in fancied security, supposing that they had defeated the President. But they counted without their host.

The President is himself gratified at the turn the affair has taken. He believes in all the protection necessary to make up the difference between the wages American workmen and the wages of poorer paid foreign workmen, but in not one penny more. He has proved to his own satisfaction that there are some schedules of the Dingly tariff which American industries have outgrown and which are now being used to foster monopolies and extort exhorbitant prices from American consumers. He realies on the American people to realize that this is just one more step in the progress of his campaign against the great corporations and in favor of the square deal for every American citizen. He has, to use his own homely phrases, no objection "to good fat protected hogs" but he is violently opposed to "those protected hogs who have grown so fast that they are now able to swing round and get their hind feet in the trough while they prevent their weaker fellows from getting their share of the meal," and he counts on the cordial support of the people for this new issue.

Who use molasses demand the best syrup obtainable. Treacle is not molasses although there's much treacle sailing under false colors. The difference between treacle and molasses lies in the fact that treacle comes from sugar in the process of making, while molasses is obtained in the process of refining. You can not get good out of bad, but you can get the best from the best which comes from the sugar.

Letter to Thos. Gallagher,

Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: A painter complained that our cans are too full; unhandy; spill.

It's a way we have, 'tis handier not to be full; but we have a weakness for full-measure. Our gallon contains eight pints; the usual "gallon" is seven.

We'll think it over again; but we like a full can. How much short would you like a barrel? Seven gallons would be the proportion.

Short-measure suggests that the short age is probably not in the cheapest ingredient.

Guess we'll stick to four quarts to a gallon, and fifty gallons a barrell.

The name to go by is Devoe lead-and-zinc.

Yours truly

HOW GERM DISEASES START.

People With Weak Stomachs in a Continual State of Danger.

Nearly all disease germs that find lodgment in the sysmtem gain entrance with the air we breathe, or through our food and drink.

If the stomach and digestive organs be weak, so that food does not readily digest, they will contain a sour, slimy fermenting mass, an ideal spot for the disease germs to grow and spread through the whole system.

People with a weak stomach are in a continal state of danger, and they should use the best means, Mi-o-na, to strengthen that organ and tone up the whole digestive system. This remedy is a certain cure for all diseases of the stomach excepting cancer. Used before each meal, it so strengthens the whole digestem system that you can eat what you want and all you want without fear of indigestion. There will be no fermentation of food, and the stomach and intestines will be to clean and pure that disease germs cannot possibly live, when Mi-o-na is used.

If you suffer with headache, backache, variable appetite, nausea, gnawing at the pit of the stomach, sallow skin, heartburn, furred tongue, sleeplessness, and general debility. It shows that the stomach has been overworked and weakened.

A fity cent box of Mi-o-na tablets will give quick and speedy relief.

Ask L. Taggart, one of the most reliable drugists in Emporium, to show you the strong guarantee under which he sells Mi-o-na.

MEN WHO DEFY DEATH FOR GAIN

Daring Strike-Breakers Fight Organized Labor in Interest of Capital.

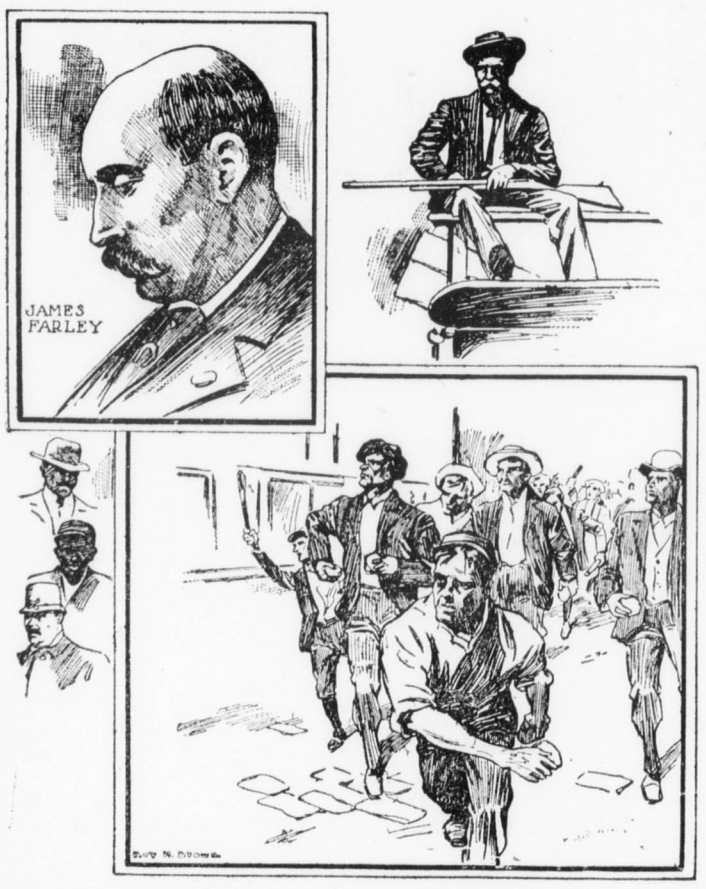
FARLEY, THE KING OF A NOTED TRIO.

Behind This Leader Stands Frank Curry, "Buster" Ready and Their Forces Ready to Crush Unionism at Call of the Employers.

Character Study of Curry, Who Is Conducting Battle of Chicago Business Men on Teamsters—New Occupation Born of Industrial Strife.

Chicago.—"Vested interests" have put the stamp of approval upon one comparatively new industry in the United States—strike breaking. There's a species of freemasonry that obtains in this Ishmaelite class, but thirty-third degree honors only have been conferred upon three men—the Big Three of the industrial strife world. James Farley, by reason of his long experience, easily leads this trio in the public eye. Not to have heard of "Farley's Own" is to argue yourself ignorant of great labor troubles. Frank Curry, the pugnacious, audacious, shrewd and withal fearless bundle of nerves and muscle who is defying unionism in the vortex of Chicago's riotous teamsters' strike, has pushed himself into second place. The third of this group of men who pour out organized capital's wealth to pour into strikes the units of fighters who move freight, turn wheels and push commerce on her way, is well known on the Pacific coast—"Buster" Ready.

These are the superiors in the modern and approved plan of battle that capital uses to crush defiant unionism. They are not particular, are these generals, as to the make-up of their brigades of workmen, but they demand one thing from every man they lead—courage. "No time for streaks of yellow, be they in the black man or in the white man," is the statement you will hear from the strike breaker when he lines up his men for the first duty.



Farley the Mysterious.

"Farley's here—he will have 2,000 negroes at his back and Chicago's business will be resumed," was the message that went through the room where were gathered the chiefs of the teamsters' joint council. The name Farley was one to conjure with on the streets. A people who had no knowledge of Farley except what was gained from the press wondered if Farley wore a coat of mail, slept with his head on a Winchester and had a bodyguard of cowboys.

Yes, Farley was there. We saw him—we who were watching for the man whom the millionaire merchants expected to help them out of their stagnation. But the Farley who came into strike-ridden Chicago unannounced, incognito and almost dragging himself into his hotel room was not the intrepid Farley who had put his horny fist into the hand of the executive head of New York's Interborough and promised with the grasp of friendship to break the strike of 6,500 employes inside of 40 hours.

Leader Broken in Health.

Farley did not lead a body of riflemen in the Employers' Teaming company caravan guard. He did not get into any of the riots with the strike sympathizers. Instead he slipped out of the city as quietly as he had come in—a sick man. Down in a health resort in North Carolina this greatest of geniuses the labor troubles of the country has produced is coughing. The harsh, frame-racking cough that he has means that there is a great strike going on in his anatomy that even his indomitable courage cannot "break." It will break him. And when this is done a black wagon will traverse the streets of Pittsburg to a hillside where men who wear even the ubiquitous union button will uncover their heads and mutter: "Well, he had the nerve."

Curry a Man of Nerve.

When the planet is "wobbling in its orbit" the satellite must endeavor to keep up the equilibrium. The honors that might have been reaped by Farley are left to Frank Curry to reap. He began his harvest by getting arrested and having his eyes blackened by the "caress of a pair of brass knuckles." Fretting over the orders of a physician that he remain in a darkened room, the strike-breaker showed his impatience to his few callers. "I've only got a cinder in my eye," said Curry. "But it don't make me want to duck these poor colored fellows I have to break this strike with."

You study this man and see how far short of Farley his capacity for executive ability falls. Homestead's iron works cooled the mold in which Farley's spirit was shaped and then the mold fell into the Alleghany river. Curry had his fighting spirit case hardened in a struggle of less importance—he seems to have some molten material in the interior that needs the reverses of conflict to harden.

Defies Death for Gain.

It's money—only money that Curry is working for. He nonchalantly tells you that. "If the strike lasts 30 days," said Curry, as he dropped some medicine into his inflamed eye from the blade of a knife—disdaining to use the little rubber syringe that his doctor has left for him—"I'll slip out of the city $30,000 richer than I was when I came in."

"But haven't you any animosity—isn't there some of that hatred that the correspondents have written about that impels you to fight unions?" Curry was asked.

"Look here," was the quick reply. "Put down in your note book these few things, and when I'm a back number study them:

"A man who would not take a chance against a mob for money is not a person to look for the future.

"Capitalists play golf, count their coupons, lean on bright young men to pilot their great enterprises and write essays for their club parties on the 'growth of union tyranny.' They need brawn, brains and grit to help them in their troubles.

Must Please Men of Wealth.

"The young man who has a few ounces of brains, a carload of grit and enough brawn to not know he has a stomach needs that capitalists' money. He can't win, taking it from the rich man—he must please him to get it.

"Please the capitalist by showing him that law and order will spread out before you if you fight disorder and lawlessness and you will get more from the rich man than a bookkeeper could earn in 50 times your period of work.

"If you are breaking a strike don't ask what kind of a union button the assailant wears—give him a quick-rising one on the forehead for nothing, if he assaults you. He'll keep his dues paid then in the university of experience.

"Think of the chances you have in life with money earned quickly and in large sums. Be mercenary, if you will, but get it by giving your best work for the man who employs you.

Fat Checks Salve Wounds.

"No physical pain you can get in a riot lasts long. The nice check that comes at the end of your work will make you forget a few bruises and scars.

And this from a man whose eye was bandaged, whose head was swollen from club wounds and whose body bore bruises from the brick shower he had defied. Look for the cynic's smile when he concludes his epigrammatic talk and you will be disappointed. Curry has a new science—he will master it and have a bank account that will take him far from the madding crowd, as it were. Some day he may have a sheep ranch and extend an invitation to some old and broken former labor chief to come and be his herder.

Demands Only Courage.

Farley never forgot a man's name if he passed scrutiny and got his description on his little red book that he kept in a safe in his office in Pittsburg. Those names were a fund that he drew upon for the railway and street transportation chiefs when they needed strike-breakers. But Curry has no list. He would not be bothered with a book. He will take the leadership of the biggest and most nondescript throng of nonunion men, black or white—and black preferred—that any employment agency ever hustled into day coaches for a long train ride.

"Is he a man? Can he drive a team and fight?" Those are the only queries Curry puts to his recruits after they are turned over to him. He will talk of the rich merchants of St. Louis putting rifles on their shoulders, shutting themselves up in their Washington street barracks and fighting the mobs of unionists. He will say that their hands trembled when their fingers pulled the triggers that sent messengers of death to rioters. But his sickly smile follows his conclusion: "They broke the strike."

"It's what guns were made for—to shoot. I shot at men lots of times. They had me tingling with pain when I did it and, may it please the court—ha! ha! ha!—I think my aim was bad—very bad—worse than that of a woman. You see it's better to hit a striker than a lad playing a block away and you can afford to shoot into the ground once in awhile."

Farley, the Silent.

If Curry is studying to simulate Farley he is a poor student. Farley never talked that much to anybody. The skill of Farley, who had 3,000 employes rushed up the East river to the Interborough power house on the steamer C. H. Northam, ready after midnight to man New York's cars that the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes had deserted, never was menaced by garrulity. Union men, richer than other workmen, haughty because they had powerful and rich unions behind them and ignorant of the true strength of Farley as a strike breaker, scoffed when the Northam left her Jersey City anchorage.

"Her decks are deserted," they said. "This man Farley has a baker's dozen of curs in the hold." Farley never spoke except in a low tone to a lieutenant of "Farley's Own." He had made trips to the principal cities of the country, selected his men and had brought them to New York's portals. A few hours later he put them in charge of the cars and one day later had the unions suing for peace. There was scarcely an interview with Farley in a Manhattan paper that was bona fide. Capital spent no time in foolish praise of the man who gave it the weapon to humble strikers whose ultimatums to the company imposed impossible conditions. It paid him and filed his name for future use.

Curry Once a Motorman.

Curry learned the use of the motorman's controller handle. He could stop a trolley car at a street crossing so that a passenger could alight at the same spot every time. He knew also the way to use the Westinghouse air brake. He could mend a "blown-out fuse." He could climb onto a car roof and cut a live wire or fix a twisted trolley. In short he was of the world of "front enders"—motor men. And it was not surprising that a great street railway strike brought him into his largest prominence.

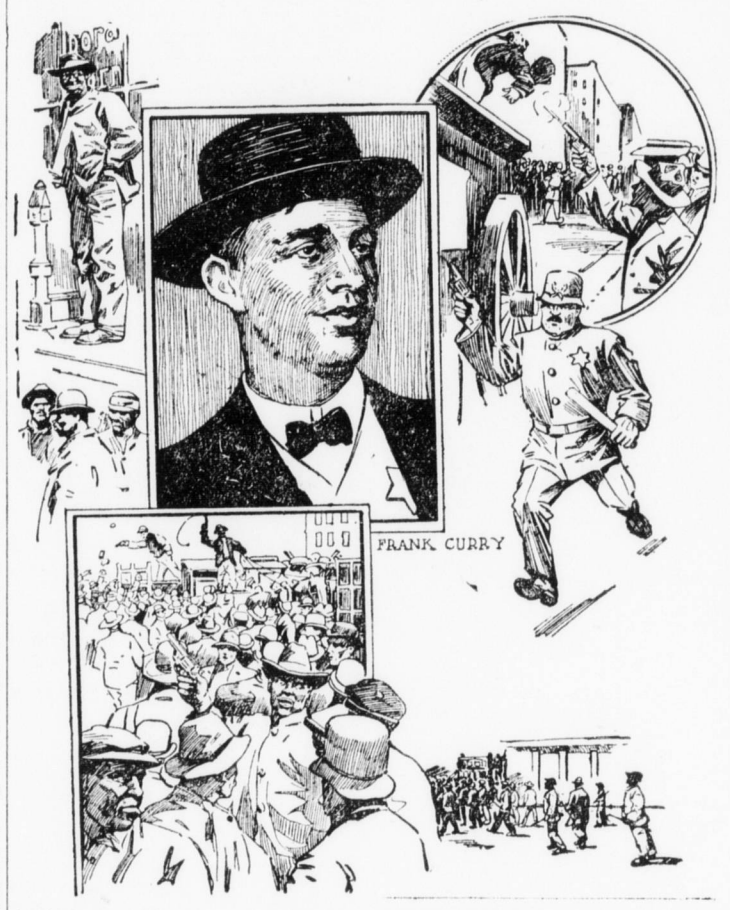
We watched him guide a car through a mob, dodge missiles and defy the stockyards thugs in the City railway strike. "I'll take a car through to the terminal and back if there is only a platform left," said Curry.

Strikers visited his home and pleaded with his wife to teach him fear. She knew that he was fearless even to the death struggle. She also knew that his goal was the dollar sign—that he had no specific fight with unions. Mrs. Curry realized that the current of his ambition could not be grounded and pleaded with her callers for justice for her spouse. "Frank's got the nerve—he has a right to work for his living and if he gets the reporters to call him a hero, a bruise on his head will hurt just the same," she is reported to have said.

Brains vs. Brawn.

Considerable brute strength was an asset used by Curry in the street car strike. Farley used his brains more and directed brute strength along lines of least resistance. The strategy of the Pittsburg office went into effect wherever Farley strung his "live wires" without a hitch. Curry, after all, was a strike-breaker who needed a general manager or a superintendent to help plan for the trips.

Then there was the ice wagon drivers' strike in St. Louis. Farley did not aspire to "breaking" that. Maybe he was not asked to help. But Curry bobbed up. He gave his opinion of the situation three hours after viewing it. "Plenty of good police—a chief who knows the department will do as it is told—union men who have a reverence for the law that Chicago teamsters do not possess"—and he said to the millionaire leaders who conferred with him: "It's a cinch."



In that strike Curry coined an expression that only one man heard. It was: "Negroes have blood, nerves and a desire to work. I'll fight to put them at par with the same stocks of the white men." And it was Curry who saw in his throngs of big, loose-jointed, silent, powerful, though not altogether cleanly, colored recruits from St. Louis and the south a force that could break the warfare that International President C. P. Shea, of the Teamsters' brotherhood, had precipitated in Chicago.

How Curry Defied Strikers.

The first thing that Curry did when put in command in Chicago was to march 300 colored strike-breakers through crowded streets to "teach them the lay of the land." It was only a picnic for Curry. The marchers were tired and footsore. Not so with Curry. A call went out: "We have lost a wagon. Who will find it? It has a federal injunction placard on it, but that means some one will lead the mob to make kindling-wood of it."

"It's a cinch," came the familiar remark of Curry. "Step out here, you fellows. Follow me."

Policemen never dodged the showers of missiles that were directed at Curry and his band. Time for a grim joke even by Curry. "They are not trying to curry favor but curry Curry," said the strike-breaker. He found the wagon.

Wealth His Reward.

Will Strikebreaker Curry ever get into the Union League club for a farewell dinner when his work is over? No. The forces of the executive committee of the Employers' association that were instrumental in enlisting Curry for the perilous work speak with the checkbook to such an employe. They regard him as a soldier of fortune. Curry will pass on to some other center where organized capital decides to declare its independence of the so-called tyranny of labor—where a dormant citizens' association or an employers' association arises to present a slogan: "Open-shop city or fight to the finish," and again the will o' wisp of money will dance before Strikebreaker Curry's eyes. He will do the work asked of him. Given enough industrial strife problems to solve and Curry will swing around a circuit that will end only with his period of usefulness.

There was grave talk of putting the national guard in the streets of Chicago when Curry was busiest directing his men. "My boys in a saloon?" queried Curry in his telephone. "Tell them to steer clear of the saloon. That's what makes it possible for strike-breakers to work, lots of times—the saloon." Then settling back for another chat the wounded leader discussed troops and their bearing on a strike.

Troops and the Strike.

"When you find the union men are just plain law haters—not high-class men—you learn that they do not fear the police as much as they should. And I guess the bluecoats do not want to get the union men down on them. I was arrested for picking up a brick that a union sympathizer hurled at me, while the latter was not caught. While two policemen held me a thug used his brass knuckles on me. That's not fair. If militia were on guard lawlessness would cease and we strike-breakers would have a chance to put through the teams as directed."

"Then the presence of troops would not make your own leadership futile?" Curry was asked.

"Troops might have to fire a few volleys and then the peaceful stage would begin. A short time of this and I would flit."

Out in the street a rich man drove his automobile up to the department store. Fifty policemen were guarding a caravan of wagons manned with the negroes who blindly obeyed the orders of Strikebreaker Curry. A man who was fixing the cement sidewalk drew near to the automobilist.

"They do be sayin' that this Curry, the strike-breaker, will have Farley wid him to-morrow, mister. I'd hate to be a teamster in the procession."

"My good fellow, a strike-breaker can sleep ten hours a night, like you do, perhaps," was the reply of the man in the auto—one of the merchant princes whose word in the Employers' association was law.

And the wonder is that a strike-breaker of prominence can find a room in which he feels secure enough to drop into slumber.

PASSING OF MEDICINE MAN

Red Men Are Coming to Believe in the Virtues of the White Man's Medicine.

The skilled professional doctor is one of the greatest helps to the Indian, and the Navahos are receiving him with very little distrust, says the Southern Workman. The savage misappropriation of things that are new is gradually subsiding, as results make clear to him that the white man's medicine is more powerful than his. But there are exceptions. The purely physical troubles may be eradicated by the doctor, but there still remains in many cases a mental uncertainty that demands the attention of the tribal medicine man. It is not a foible or a fancy, but a mental disease governed by countless ages of mysticism which necessitates the occult, mind-easing treatment of the old days. This, then, is a mind cure of the Indians—the Christian Science of the savage, which, hand in hand with concrete medicine, exists in all races, whether barbaric or cultured. It is as necessary to the Indian as a certain amount of mind cure is essential to our happiness.

The knowledge of modern curative agents should be imparted to the younger members of the tribe. They are capable of assimilating new facts and will take readily to the new school. Civilization is disrupting the tribal organization to such an extent that the major portion of the old laws and beliefs relating to the causes and cure of disease will soon be things of the past. With this essential of the old life gone, the work of the medicine men will have been finished. At present there must be a certain cooperation between the modern doctor who goes among them and the medicine man of the tribe.

Boy's Idea of Babies.

Here is an essay on babies, by an English board schoolboy: "Babys are little red things without bones nor teeth. They have various sises, but just after they are borned, they are called bypeds; their bones are grisle. They are two sects, male and female, and are also very fat. When very young they do not have much hair. They are always asleep only when crying. Women and girls go silly over babys, and kiss them all over and say silly things. That's why girls have dolls when they haven't any little brothers. Everybody 'as to be a baby first. That's all I know about babys."

IN RELIGION'S FIELD

The Rev. Dr. Charles A. Crane, of Boston, after careful inquiry has come to the conclusion that there are about 140 different kinds of religion in that city.

As a church choir singer Mrs. Frederick B. Bushnell, of Dennisville, N. J., is believed to hold the record. At 75 years of age she is still a member of the choir of the Methodist church.

A chapel which is being finished in Westminster cathedral, London, will cost $50,000. The money is the contribution of converts to the Roman Catholic church as thank offerings for their conversion.

There were in 1900 in the German empire 35,131,104 Protestants and 20,231,144 Roman Catholics. Besides these the census recorded 203,783 "other Christians," 35,000 Old Catholics, and 586,833 Jews.

It is stated that there is likely to be a compromise between the Free and United Free Churches of Scotland, the Free church surrendering $25,000,000 of the $37,500,000 which it acquired under the decision of the house of lords.

The Chicago Society for Biblical Research has a roll of 33 members, representing five denominations, Methodist, Congregational, Lutheran, Baptist and Presbyterian, and found mainly in the faculties of their theological seminaries.

There are to-day 87 Bohemian Protestant churches in the United States, 59 Presbyterian and Reformed, 16 Congregational, Methodist Episcopal, and three Baptist, with 65 pastors, many missionaries and 87 Sunday schools.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, which recently reached its 25th birthday, has a membership of 3,919,600, and its societies number 65,327, of which 500 are in Europe. The movement has extended to China, Japan, Persia, Syria, Korea and Armenia. In Australia there is a large membership. Germany shows the highest rate of increase in Europe.

MITES OF MERRIMENT.

"Is marriage a failure?" "You can never tell till you've seen the wedding presents."

"Fashionable congregation, isn't it?" "Very. They're traveling along the straight and narrow path in automobiles."

"What's in a name?" exclaimed the Russian general. "There are about 42 letters in mine," answered his companion, jocularly.

She—"So your father wants you to go to work! What did he say?" He—"Said he thought I ought to find something to 'do' besides him."

Clarence—"And why do you think I am a poor judge of human nature?" Beatrice—"Because you have such a good opinion of yourself."

"Miss, I thought I heard a cry for help?" "Yes, sir, this young man was trying to kiss me!" "Who called for help; you or the young man?"

Hostess (to distinguished foreigner)—"I do hope you won't find it dull here." Distinguished Foreigner (politely)—"Ah, no, I will not find it dull. Are not you and your husband amusement enough?"

Private Car Lines.

The railroads seem very willing to have the private car lines brought under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission. A railroad president is authority for the statement that lines are paid mileage, without discrimination, and the question of excessive charges is a matter for the shipper to settle with the car lines, so long as there is no law to govern their rates. Car mileage paying has been decided to be as legal as the payment of rental for property.

MONEY IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The income tax in Great Britain is levied on $3,500,000,000 of annual income, and produces $155,000,000 of revenue for the government.

From money invested abroad alone Great Britain's capitalists probably receive $1,200,000,000 a year of income, though no one can tell exactly.

That is only $244 a year for each person if it were equally divided. It isn't. Less than 750,000 persons have more than half the total income.

It is probable that the total of private incomes, great and small, in the United States is over $25,000,000,000, though the sum cannot be so closely estimated as in the island kingdom.

If Mr. Gibsen Bowles is right in saying that only one-third of the national income pays the tax, the total of incomes of the united kingdom must be $10,500,000,000, a sum almost inconceivably vast.

Decoration Day.
June, rich with leaves and waving grass,
The winds across her verdure pass,
And sweep through spaces overhead
Arched blue above a nation's dead.
Their graves unnumbered many be
Wide scattered all by land and sea,
The sun and shadows o'er them fall
And night shall answer as their pall.
By ridge and lowland sound they rest
Rocked on the broad earth's heaving breast;
Where high she pulses into hills
Or, sinking, into valleys, stills.
For them nor banners nor the strife
Nor winding ways of sensate life,
But evermore the bonds of peace
Hands folded, and the soul's release.
For them their country mourns today
For gray and blue, for blue and gray,
For those who fell in fiery storm
Whatever was their uniforms.
The scar is healed, from North to South,
Fled are the signs of battle-drouth,
And journeying on from South to North
A flower message flashes forth
To tell in blossoms how the land
By the bright bow of love is spanned,
With many a pitying flower strewn
Grave-garnered at the gates of June.

For Those Who Died

By JENNIE E. T. DOWIE

"What' Memorial day for, anyway?" Sam Silsbee stood in his corn field leaning upon his hoe, the morning sun shining upon his shriveled face and lighting up the red bandana which he wore loosely knotted about his throat. He spit out a spear of grass from his mouth and went on talking to Jason Elkins, who, also hoe in hand, was planting corn in an adjoining field.

"You know, Jason, just as well as I do, 't is all foledrol about soldiers a-dying for their country! They just happened to die. They was just after chasing the almighty dollar, and as Sim Sikes said when he enlisted, 'twas a good chance to go south and see the country and get paid for it into the bargain."

"Well," replied Jason, poking round with his hoe in the black earth, "no doubt there was some scallawags in the army, just as there is everywhere, but there was lots of brave fellows. I wish I could have gone; I have always felt streakled to think I didn't, though how to get away at the time, I couldn't see."

"And suppose they did die for their country," said Sam, "though I don't believe hide nor hair of it, but suppose they did, is that any reason why folks that are alive to-day should make fools of themselves a-banging and tooting with a drum and fife and a-scattering flowers on graves? 'Tis enough to make a horse laugh to see the men a-starting out a-marching and carrying all sorts of greens! And then the time that is lost? Did you ever try to figure it out? Well, I've kinder sorter kept a run of it in my head, and if folks would work the time they spend a-fooling 'round on Memorial day, even at small wages, I believe 'twould clear wipe out the national debt!"

"Yes—yes!" answered Jason, shaking his gray head, "no doubt all you say may be true. But, after all, there is something beside money to be thought of. Anyway, you can't complain that this town has spent much a-celebrating. We haven't never had a sign of a celebration!"

"Gracious goodness, I should hope not!" said Sam. "I have tried to scrape too close to get forehanded to have my money thrown away for nothing. My wife was bound to go up to my brother-in-law's last year on Memorial day, you know it is quite a place where they live, and so to pacify her I went. You never see such fool nonsense! I stayed around till about ten o'clock in the forenoon and then I harnessed up and came home, for I couldn't stand it any longer! I thought I'd seen fools before, but I hadn't. What do you suppose—why they had wreaths made o' laurel, such as will p'sen sheep, and any old sort of trash like apple blossoms and such! And they put them on Rob Kendall's grave and sung some sort of a hymn over him. I guess he had never heard a hymn before."

"True, true," said Jason, "there was some poor trash among the soldiers, but even Rob is remembered for his one brave act, and I don't see what hurt that can do! Nobody had set him up for wrong, but because he did a worthy action!"

"I'm thankful," said Sam, "that we haven't any soldiers' graves in our town. I suppose if we had, somebody would try to make a splurge!"

"They want to celebrate this year," replied Jason. "The young folks think we ought to do something, and then there is Jerry Long; I know he feels the way we do. He lost his arm as a soldier, and the town don't care enough about him to even have the church bell rung on Decoration day."

"Jerry Long," answered Sam, striking out viciously with his hoe, "Jerry Long was another fool. He went and enlisted. I remember all about it, and he's been a cripple to pay for it, and had to sneak out a living as he could, selling things in his little store. Suppose I had enlisted and come back with one arm; why I should have had to shuck along just as he has. Though I suppose his pension comes in handy, though I don't believe in pensions, 't is a waste of good money. How much will he give for celebrating? Not much, I reckon!"

"I think he would do more than his share," replied Jason. "A man that would go for a soldier would not shirk much in anything."

"Well," answered Sam, "if Jerry is so mortal anxious to have a celebration, let him go ahead. I'll give as much as he will give—say, I'll give twice as much!"

"Do you mean that, Sam?" asked Jason.

Sam hesitated, not expecting his words to be taken in dead earnest. But there was a sturdy as well as a stingy vein in Sam; beside, he reasoned that Jerry had nothing to give, so he finally replied, after considerable scratching of his head: "Yes, I mean it; I'll give twice as much for a celebration as Jerry Long will give!"

Jason emphatically nodded his head and went to planting corn as if his life depended upon his speed. Sam also resumed planting, chuckling to himself: "They can't say much against me now; I've got them sure."

Fancy Sam's astonishment, as evening approached, and he seated in the barnyard milking his best Devon cow, was visited by Jason, who remarked: "Well, Sam, Jerry has come up to the scratch; he's given me a check for $500!"

"I don't believe he's got $500," answered Sam; "he's a-fooling you!"

"No," replied Jason; "it is all right. He says he's always thought of leaving what little he's saved, to have some sort of a memorial to the soldiers, and he thinks now you will help, that he will give his money while he is alive, and see it spent according to his notion, which is to have a monument or hall, or something worth looking at. And he's going to save something back as a nest egg to keep up a perpetual yearly celebration in town, that is some sort of a proper notice of the day."

Sam got upon his feet, kicked the milking stool against the frisky Devon, who in turn kicked Sam, though without any greater injury to him than a skinned shank, and then turning to Jason, he said, with the air of a man accustomed to give away a thousand dollars every day: "I said I would do it, and I declare that I will, even if it breaks me!"

And do it he did. The effect of this giving upon Sam was marvelous. He had always been so close that he had never possessed the remotest idea of the pleasure which generosity could afford.

He not only gave the thousand dollars, but was first and foremost on every Decoration day to see that a proper celebration was carried out.

A handsome little library was built with the main part of the money, and Sam as well as Jerry looked close to see that everything was done in the best manner and with the best material.

"I don't spend a thousand dollars every day," Sam had said, "and when I do, I calculate to look after it."

This year in the town of Shirley on Decoration day there is to be an address in Memorial hall upon "Reminiscences of the Civil War," by Jerry Long, and remarks, "Concerning Cuba and Our Late Heroes," by 'Squire Sillsbee.

Sam, or 'Squire Sillsbee, as he is now called, has also been heard to say more than once, that when he is dead, he hopes somebody will remember to put a posy upon his grave.—Portland Transcript.

Love's Fragrant Offering.

Thin grow the ranks. Each veteran now
Has silver locks around his brow;
And slow and weary tread.
Dim are his eyes once keen and bright,
And frail his arm, that in the fight
Was strong where duty led.

Thin grow the ranks, but love shall keep
A tender watch where heroes sleep.
With fragrant flowers of May,
The lowly graves we strew,
Of those who wore the union blue,
On this Memorial day.
—Ruth Raymond, in Ohio Farmer.

Memorial Day.

Children, bring your sweetest flowers!
North and south and east and west,
Bring the flowers you love the best,
Lay them where the soldiers rest.

Children, bring your sweetest flowers!
In memory of the gift they gave,
Every noble man and brave
Who sleeps within a soldier's grave.
—Anna M. Pratt, in Youth's Companion.

MOTHERHOOD

Actual Sterility in Women Is Very Rare—Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes.

Many women long for a child to bless their homes, but because of some debility or displacement of the female organs they are barren.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the entire female organism, curing all displacements, ulceration and inflammation.

A woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution. Is not that an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity?

If expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for thirty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be a great decrease in miscarriages, in suffering, and in disappointments at birth.

The following letters to Mrs. Pinkham demonstrate the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President of Milwaukee Business Woman's Association, of 614 Grove Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was married for several years and no children blessed our home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. For months I took his medicines, trying in vain for a cure, but at last my husband became disgusted and suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; this I did, and I improved steadily in health, and in less than two years a beautiful child came to bless our home. Now we have something to live for, and all the credit is due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Mae P. Wharry, Secretary of the North Shore Oratorical Society, The Norman, Milwaukee, Wis., writes.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was married for five years and gave birth to two premature children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me, and I am so glad I took it, for it changed me from a weak, nervous woman to a strong, happy and healthy one within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born, which is the pride and joy of our household. Every day I bless Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the light, health and happiness it brought to our home."

If any woman thinks she is sterile, or has doubts about her ability to carry a child to a mature birth let her write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., whose advice is free to all expectant or would-be mothers. She has helped thousands of women through this anxious period.

Women suffering with irregular or painful menstruation, leucorrhœa, displacement, ulceration or inflammation of the womb, that bearing down feeling or ovarian trouble, backache, bloating or nervous prostration, should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of woman's ills, and accept no substitute.

Many Women Have Been Benefited by Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine.

Truths that Strike Home

Your grocer is honest and—if he cares to do so—can tell you that he knows very little about the bulk coffee he sells you. How can he know, where it originally came from, how it was blended—or with what—or when roasted? If you buy your coffee loose by the pound, how can you expect purity and uniform quality?

LION COFFEE, the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES, is of necessity uniform in quality, strength and flavor. For OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY, LION COFFEE has been the standard coffee in millions of homes.

LION COFFEE is carefully packed at our factories, and until opened in your home, has no chance of being adulterated, or of coming in contact with dust, dirt, germs, or unclean hands.

In each package of LION COFFEE you get one full pound of Pure Coffee. Insist upon getting the genuine. (Lion head on every package.)

QUICK RESULTS.

W. J. Hill, of Concord, N. C., Justice of the Peace, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills proved a very efficient remedy in my case. I used them for disordered kidneys and backache, from which I had experienced a great deal of trouble and pain. The kidney secretions were very irregular, dark colored and full of sediment. The Pills cleared it all up and I have not had an ache in my back since taking the last dose. My health generally is improved a great deal."

Our New Year
Introductory Sale

WE have just finished a wonderfully prosperous year. One in which all our past sales-records were thrown so far in the rear that it will require the most vigorous and untiring work to surpass them. But work is our pastime and we are going to do it.

Your splendid patronage has placed increased purchasing power in our hands, the force of which will be felt in the ever increasing values that will benefit every money-wise person in this county who is wise enough to profit by it.

Keep Your Eye on Us all this Year and Watch Us Grow.

THE COUNTY.

HUNTLEY.

On deck again.

B. J. Collins had business at Cameron on Saturday.

Frank Fox, Sr., of Driftwood, was in town on Sunday.

Mrs. W. W. Johnson did shopping at Emporium on Wednesday.

Albert Jordan and wife, of Sinnamahoning, visited in town over Sunday.

Mrs. Neomi Hamilton of Medix Run, is visiting her sistor, Mrs. A. F. Nelson.

Several of our young swains took in the ball game at Driftwood on Saturday.

Hon. G. W. Huntley and family enjoyed a buggy ride to this place on Sunday.

G. B. Barclay of the firm of Barclay Bros. had business with Wilson Bros. on Thursday.

Mrs. Philip Schweikart entertained her father and mother of Buffalo, a few days last week.

Road Supervisors, Daugherty and Miller, had business with town clerk W. H. Logue on Monday.

James O. Jordan one of Mason Hill's most successful farmers was seen on our streets Wednesday.

Miss Alice Jordan who has been visiting friends at Driftwood and Sinnamahoning for some time returned home on Saturday.

Woods foreman C. J. Arnold contemplates moving to West Virginia in the near future. He having secured a similar position with the Droney Lumber Co.

Butcher O. B. Tanner, of Mason Hill, was in town on Sunday and took time to spin us some of his side splitting, botton bursting yarns, and some that would chill the marrow and freeze the brain and make the hair stand on our heads like quills on a fretted porcupine.

CAMERON.

Mr. A. A. Walker of St. Marys, has accepted a position of engineman for the Calder Brick Co., in place of John Mack who resigned.

Mr. B. Stockman injured his side quite painfully while on duty at the mill Sunday. He is able to be around however.

B. Fuller has severed his connection with the Cameron Lumber Co., and expects to open a meat market at Medix Run in the near future.

J. C. Skillman and party left for Dur bin, W. Va., Friday morning last, to start their large lumber job.

The local lodge of the United Mine Workers of America will give a select ball at the K. G. E. hall, Monday evening, May 29. We hope this event will be well patronized, as the miners purses are always open to help in any worthy cause. Reciprocity is our motto.

The theatrical play given by the Catholic people of Driftwood for the benefit of the Rev. Father Mackin was a complete success. The play was held in K. G. E. hall here, and the net receipts were forty-seven dollars. The performance of the Driftwood home talent would be well worthy of being classed with the professional efforts. Treasurer Jos. Robinson and Secretary Jas. B. Hayes entertrined the visitors and Mr. Patrick Robinson of Sterling Run had charge of the arrangements.

SINNAMAHONING.

Jack Frost visited us the first of this week and was pretty hard on the gardens and corn.

Miss Hattie Shafer is visiting at Williamsport this week.

Joel Speaker was out to Brockwayville the first of the week. He intends moving there the first of June.

Theo. Kepheart has bought the Losey place and will move in as soon as Mr. Speaker moves out.

J. R. Batchelder, the tombstone man of Lock Haven was putting up some fine marble work here this week.

Nace Dushore's cub bear is growing fast and is getting so he will play quite a bit.

J. F. Berfield has the youngest cow in the county—11½ months old, giving about five pints of milk at a milking.

The hound that run the deer into the creek here last week belongs to Eli Woster, of Pottersdale near Carthaus. It is too bad to have deer run at this season of the year. The long eared hounds will do it if they get a chance.

The trustees of W. C. 136, P. O. S. of A. ordered their furniture for the new hall Tuesday evening. They are going to try to get the hall ready to dedicate about the twentieth of June if possible.

Memorial services will be held in the M. E. church June 4th at 11 a. m., instead of the 28th of May, as Rev. Noble has made arrangements to preach at Sterling Run on that day.

Mrs. Jane Gore died at her home at Wyside yesterday morning, after a lingering sickness and suffering of which she was a most patient sufferer, making no complaint, but putting her trust in the Saviour. She leaves a husband and three sons and two daughters, Mrs. A. J. Barclay of this place and Mrs. Wm. Heitrick of Connellsville to mourn her death. The funeral will be held at Huntley, the home of her childhood on Thursday.

A FOOLISH PLAN

'Tis a joy to eat—I welcome my dinner hour;
Because I rout indigestion with August Flower!

¶Constipation is the result of indigestion, biliousness, flatulency, loss of appetite, self-poisoning, anemia, emaciation, uric acid, neuralgia in various parts of the system, catarrhal inflammation of the intestinal canal and numerous other ailments that rob life of its pleasures if they do not finally rob you of life itself.
¶"I'm bound in the bowels," is a common expression of people who look miserable and are miserable—yet who persist in "letting nature take its course."
¶What a foolish plan, when nature could be aided by the use of Green's August Flower, which is nature's own remedy for constipation and all stomach ills.
¶August Flower gives new life to the liver and insures healthy stools.
¶Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but get no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect. that in three days I felt like a new man, and to-day I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at L. Taggart's drug store; price 50c.

Some men are thrust into prominence and some others but in.

Cleared for Action.

When the body is cleared for action, by Dr. King's New Life Pills, you can tell it by the bloom of health on the cheeks; the brightness of the eyes; the firmness of the flesh and muscles; the buoyancy of the mind. Try them. At L. Taggart's drug store, 25 cents.

In hoarding pennies many a man squanders good opportunities.

There is a Difference.

The difference between Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar and all other Cough Syrups is that it moves the bowels, thus expelling a cold from the system. This relaxes the nerve tissues and by its healing affect on the throat and lungs the cough is relieved—cured entirely. Kennedy's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar and contains no opiates. Good alike for young or old. Tastes good. Solb by R. C. Dodson.

You can usually judge a man's happiness by his self-importance.

How a Doctor was Cured.

"For two years I was troubled with lumbago, or pain across my kidneys, the pain shooting down my thigh (especially on taking cold the pain would be terrible,) a continual grinding, aching pain; One bottle of Thompson's Barosma, Backache, Diver ank Kidney Cure gave me immediate relief. I am now taking Barosma with great benefit as it reduces all inflammation of the stomach liver and bladder, the great organs that regulate the whole system and purity the blood." —Dr. A. S.
